PREFACE.

PREFACE.

The Nineteenth Volume of the Lineage Book contains the National Numbers from 18001-19000.

It is worthy of note that the records of many Revolutionary soldiers filed in 1897, are those of men hitherto not found in our Card Catalogue and what is more remarkable that those joining the Society to-day are adding many new names to the Roll of Honor.

The correspondence is increasing because as the Roll of the Society is enlarged, evidences are given, claiming the services of soldiers who bear the same name and often come from the same locality. But, in ascertaining the dates of birth and death and the names of the wives, the men are found not to be identical. All such correct data add to the value of these volumes.

It is a source of gratification that these publications are receiving from the highest authorities on genealogical and historical lines, words of appreciation and encouragement.
